Weekly Nugget: Romans 9.33: The stone motif is found in a number of Old Testament passages (Genesis 49:24; Psalm 118:22; Isaiah 8:14; 28:16; Daniel 2:34–35, 44–45) and is taken up in the New (Matthew 21:42; Luke 20:17–18; Acts 4:11; 1 Corinthians 3:11; Ephesians 2:20; 1 Peter 2:4–8). It does not always have the same significance, but the New Testament writers see Christ as the stone. (1)
